

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	ix
Abbreviations	x
Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xvi
1 Introduction: Understanding the Left in the People's Republic	1
Initial Questions and Perspectives	1
The Making of the (Global) Left	5
Visualizing the Composition of the Left	8
Early History of the Chinese Left	13
Structure of the Book	15
2 Against Broken Promises: Workers Claim Equality and Participation in the Socialist 1950s and 1960s	20
Workers' Struggles and Political Discontent 1956–57	21
Economism and the Rebel Movement 1966–68	31
Conclusion: Regime Betrayal and Class Resistance	46
3 For a Better Future: Worker Movements Demand Democratic Reforms in the 1970s and 1980s	48
The April 5 Movement 1976	49
The Democracy Wall Movement 1978–80	54
Workers in the Tian'anmen Square Movement 1989	64
Conclusion: Movements For and Against the Reforms	75
4 Defense and Nostalgia: Social Struggles Drive Leftist Resistance in the 1990s and 2000s	78
Peasant Struggles Against Reform Effects	79
State Workers Against Smashing the Iron Rice-bowl	85
Maoist Organizing and the New Left	91
Conclusion: Old Class Composition, New Leftist Mobilization	102

5	Social Unrest and Organizing: Challenges for the CCP in the Capitalist 2000s and 2010s	104
	The New Working Class	105
	The Recomposed Left	114
	Women*'s Struggles Against Patriarchal Regimes	123
	Feminists (Not) Challenging the Party State	129
	Conclusion: Struggles Force the Regime to Adapt	137
6	Conclusions: Social Discontent and Left Opposition in Socialism and Capitalism	141
	How Social Unrest and the Left Changed Since 1949	141
	Dynamics of Struggles and Countermeasures	145
	Visualizing the PRC's (Other) Left	149
	The CCP's Anti-leftist Record	154
	Lessons for Left-wing Strategies	158
	Epilogue	162
	Chinese Terms and Characters	164
	Notes	168
	Works Cited	203
	Index	220